CITY MAY RESIST INCREASED RATES

Seymour Telephone Case Expected to Come Before the Indiana Commission Shortly.

ENGINEER MAY BE EMPLOYED

Chamber of Commerce Committee Asks Council to Arrange for Defense in the Case.

Information from Indianapolis to the effect that the hearing on the rate case filed by the Seymour Mutual Telephone Company will be held shortly, has resulted in much speculation as to whether the city council will take steps to resist the case. C. W. Burkart, city mayor, stated today that he had given the matter some consideration and would call the attention of the council to the pending petition at the next regular meeting. The steps to be taken in defending the city's contention would rest largely with the council, he said, although it is known that the mayor feels that the city ought to be prepared to wage a strong defense.

The date for the hearing has not been announced, but it is thought that it will be held during the coming month. There is a likelihood that it may be set down during the latter part of this month, but in that case the city would be required to ask for a postponement inasmuch as several weeks will be required to prepare the evidence for the city.

The company filed its petition for an increase in rates last October, before it went under the control of the Federal wire administration. On July 1, the company instituted new rates under federal authority and in the case to be tried this fall decision will be reached as to the authority of the company to continue these rates.

The pending case is of interest to the telephone patrons not only because the future schedule will be fixed, but also because the company has agreed to refund any difference that may exist between the permanent rates authorized by the commission and the schedule now in force.

Several weeks ago the chamber of commerce committee endeavored to effect a compromise with the company but the effort was in vain. The committee then recommended that the council prepare for a stubborn defense and that an expert engineer and accountant be employed to represent the patrons. The council took no action on the matter at that time as the members decided to wait until the date for the hearing was definitely announced by the commission.

MEXICAN SITUATION.

The Mexican situation is about as bad as it could be without some action being taken to improve it. The situation is indeed serious when American soldiers are captured and held for ransom. It is time that the Mexican government assert its authority to clean up the nests of outlaws and bandits. If the Mexican government is unable to cope with the situation other measures must be exercised.

The Eighth United States cavalry crossed the border Tuesday morning in search of the bandits after the ransom money was paid to them. The chase was not expected to continue long. Military authorities declared that the troopers would be back on American soil within a few hours. But if these outlaws escape their freedom will only encourage them to other crimes. Punitive expeditions into Mexico by the United States army are of little value unless the troops are given authority to accomplish the work for which they are ordered south of the border. Nothing can be gained by sending warships and troops to Mexico to demand a salute to Old Glory and then order them to return if the offending parties decide that it is not convenient to salute the flag at that time.

Mexico is the trouble center on the Western hemisphere. Carranza claims he can control the situation. Certainly the time has come for him to show his authority.

Somebody is "always taking the joy out of life." The president says the present unsettled economic conditions result from the refusal of the senate to approve the treaty and the league of nations covenant. Senators who oppose the treaty and world society are convinced that if the documents are approved in their present form conditions will become worse.

The house yesterday took very drastic action when it ordered an investigation into the high cost of living. On what authority has all this investigating during the last two weeks been made?

"BOLSHEVISM ON TRIAL" SHOWS DANGER OF SYSTEM

Photoplay of Intense Human Interest Seen at Majestic Theatre By Big Crowds.

Big crowds yesterday afternoon and last night saw the unusual photoplay, "Bolshevism on Trial," which was presented at the Majestic theater. The purpose of the play was to depict the dangers which arise from Bolshevism and to show how Socialism may grow into Bolshevism, freedom and license. The audiences were stirred to patriotic outbursts when sacred institutions of American freedom and protection were in danger but were saved by the timely arrival of troops under the folds of Old Glory.

A young man who is convinced that Socialism is the remedy for all economic ills decides to join a group of people who establish a colony on an island, presumably off the Florida coast. He is elected leader but his ideas are not broad enough to suit the other colonists and he is deposed and another leader elected. The second leader declares for greater freedom of life, including annulment of marriages. The leader's wife then sees the danger of the system and assists in getting word to the former leader's father who arrives accompanied by a company of sailors. The colony is broken up and the young man returns home convinced that his theory is not practical. A love story is interwoven in the play and adds interest. Humorous incidents are brought out in the presentation, making the play of both educational and entertainment value.

EXPRESS BUSINESS UNUSUALLY HEAVY

found in the express offices with two or more addresses, anyone of which may lead the trunk astray. Some vacationists, returning to a large city, fail to give their local street addresses and the city offices of the express company find it impossible to locate the owner.

Agent Clark Hennessy insists upon the use of a tag and a label on each piece of baggage forwarded. The express regulations forbid the acceptance by the company of any trunk or other baggage, addressed only with a tag. The address should be clearly and correctly written and contain all of the essential information to accomplish its delivery. No shipments are accepted without a declaration of value and it is to the interest of baggage shippers to make a correct statement on this item, as under the law the carrier's liability, unless extra valuation is specified, is limited to $50 for baggage weighing 100 pounds, or under, or 50 cents, per pound, actual weight, if the trunk is over 100 pounds minimum.

As an additional precaution the express officials suggest that all baggage shippers place an extra address somewhere on the inside of their trunks or suit cases, so that in the case of delay or miscarriage of the pieces, they can be opened and their owners identified as soon as possible and the baggage forwarded to them, without further delay.

Ten "don'ts" for baggage shippers are outlined by Mr. Hennessy as follows:

1. Don't forget to obliterate all old marks. Scratch or rub them out so that they will never again be seen. If you don't your baggage may go astray. Think of the disappointment.

2. Don't forget to address your baggage securely—use a tag and a label.

3. Don't forget to mark consignee's name and destination distinctly and legibly so that any person of ordinary intelligence can interpret.

4. Don't forget to place correct and true value on your baggage. We are only free insurers up to $50.00 or 50c. per pound actual weight.

5. Don't forget to place inside your baggage your name and permanent address so that in the event the marks come off in transit we can immediately notify you.

6. Don't forget when turning over to us for baggage at Steamboat lines and Railroad stations to advise just where we should call to obtain same and don't forget to make out your own tags and pasters.

7. Don't place fruit or perishable matter in your baggage. This often causes damage.

8. Don't place liquid in your baggage, the containers very likely will break resulting in serious damage for which we are not responsible.

9. Don't forget to give us time to make delivery before entering complaint.

10. Don't forget we want to please you.

BRUTALITY OF TURKS DEPICTED ON THE SCREEN

"Auction of Souls" Witnessed by Hundreds of People at The Princess Theater.

A picture that is out of the ordinary entitled "The Auction of Souls," was witnessed by large audiences at the Princess Theater Tuesday. The plot is based upon the brutality of the Turks towards the helpless and starving Armenians. The story is told by a young woman who witnessed the cruelty but escaped.

International characters figure in the production, one scene showing the sultan of Turkey, Ever Pasha and Henry Morgenthau, American ambassador, in conference. It was at this meeting that Morgenthau made his last and vain appeal for the Armenians.

The play shows the burning of homes, the result of the deportation edict and the brutal treatment and even slaughter of men in the streets. Americans who have read of the conditions in Armenia were able to get a better idea of the terrible brutalities by the picturization. The same film will be screened at the Princess today.

Indiana Firemen Meet.

By United Press

Marion, Aug. 20.—Mayor Elkanah Hulley today welcomed the Indiana State Firemen's Association to this city for its annual convention which will continue through tomorrow.

Several hundred visiting firemen were here for the registration and the town was given over to them. The Elks club was given to the firemen as a convention headquarters.

G. F. Railing, who resides just east of the city has one of the finest patches of banana muskmelons ever raised in this county. Mr. Railing had some of the large melons on display in the Republican office window for several days which attracted considerable attention.

Miss Helen Smith of Medora, spent Tuesday shopping in Seymour.

"Burning the Midnight Oil"

THAT, literally, is the reason why the American has won the proud distinction of being the best educated man in the world.

Because a cheap, dependable illuminating oil made from petroleum was developed first in the United States, the people of this country had the opportunity of studying late into the night long before such luxury was possible elsewhere.

The petroleum industry, in which the Standard Oil Company was a pioneer, has made it possible, even in remote places, for man to read, study and acquire knowledge in comfort, after the day's work is done.

The tremendous development of America shows that the American has "burned the midnight oil" to good purpose.

The seven men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the 19,568 men and women who carry on the business, and the 4623 stockholders, all are proud of the fact that their Company has been, and is, such a potent influence in the development of the nation.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates the greatest and most complete refinery in the world, together with several others of lesser output.

Throughout 11 states the Company distributes the refined products so thoroughly that even those in the remote corners are able, at all times, to get their requirements at a low price.

Thus is shown another marked benefit accruing to all from the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant.

Your Home, Madam

Can Get a Milk Such as Millions Cannot Get

The Finest Milk Ever Used

From Healthy
High-Bred Cows
Regularly
Inspected

Model Sanitary
Dairies

"The Cow in the Pantry"

The homes of this city can now get Van Camp's Milk—the best milk produced in America.

We cannot supply—and never can—more than one home in a hundred. So we offer it here in our home state. The grocers of this city will be kept supplied. We have seven model condenseries, all in famous dairying districts. Each day we milk 45,000 cows. But milk of this grade, from high-bred cows, will always be somewhat limited.

A 20-Year Development

About 20 years ago we started out to produce the utmost in rich, safe, cleanly milk. Some of the ablest experts in this line—foreign and American—have been employed to help us. Van Camp's Milk comes from healthy cows of the finest breeds. It has taken us years to accumulate them. Those cows are kept in sanitary dairies. They are regularly inspected.

The cows are milked close to our condenseries. The fresh, warm milk is then placed in a vacuum. There, by low heat, more than half the water is evaporated.

The milk is then a double-rich milk, as thick as cream. It is twice as rich as bottled milk, both in butter fat and solids.

Van Camp's Milk

The Best Milk Produced in America

Sterilized and Safe

After this milk is hermetically sealed it is sterilized by heat. Thus it comes to you a germ-free milk, safe for drinking, safe for infants.

The dangers which lurk in ordinary milk are absent in Van Camp's.

If you want very thick cream use Van Camp's as it is. For coffee, cereals and ice cream it can even be diluted. To reduce to rich milk add an equal part of water. Just replace what we take out.

For cooking reduce still further. For every purpose you get full-cream milk when you use Van Camp's.

Van Camp Products Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

No Shortage—No Waste

This ideal milk, rich, cleanly, safe, costs you less than bottled milk. In addition it saves all waste. You don't need to guess at your daily wants. You never have too much milk or too little.

Small cans and large cans are kept ever on the shelf. Open what you need.

Thus you have both milk and cream for any purpose in any quantity. Never more than you need, never less than you need. That reduces milk cost to the minimum.

Compare Van Camp's with the milk you use—with bottled milk or with other evaporated. See what we have accomplished. Tell your grocer—now, before you forget—to send a few cans of Van Camp's.

FOOD ALLOTMENT IS GOING FAST

Almost One Hundred Orders Have Been Placed With Postmaster Swope for Foodstuffs.

ORDERING ENDS TODAY

Postmaster Expects Seymour's Allotment to Be Exhausted Before 6 O'clock This Evening.

That at least one hundred orders for surplus government foodstuffs will be placed before 6 o'clock this evening, is the opinion of Postmaster Allen Swope. The postmaster has been busy throughout the day taking orders for the surplus commodities offered by the government at prices much lower than today's market price.

Postmaster Swope has been a very busy man today taking care of persons that gathered at his office to prepare orders for the foodstuffs. At times during the day as many as twelve persons were in the postmaster's office at one time filling out the order blanks. As assurance against ordering goods after the allotment is exhausted, the persons placing orders are given duplicate receipts and providing their orders cannot be filled, they can return the duplicate and get their money back.

There is no red tape to the offer made by the government and the public is being urged to take advantage of the situation and purchase at cost these surplus supplies which are all guaranteed to be in good condition. If found otherwise the zone supply officer will upon receipt of the proper credentials duplicate the order with goods that are satisfactory.

No orders for the surplus government supplies will be received after 6 o'clock this evening Postmaster Swope has announced. However, it is his opinion that the allotment for this city will be exhausted before that time. Most of the orders have been placed by persons residing in the city. Very few calls for the commodities have been received from persons residing in the rural districts. Those who have purchased are satisfied that they are getting some real bargains. The orders will be filled as early as possible. They will be sent to the zone supply officer at Chicago immediately.

Lyman Hoover, who underwent an operation for appendicitis several weeks ago at the local hospital, was able to return to his home in Indianapolis today. His father, Rev. G. I. Hoover, came this morning to accompany him home.

Running a Household is a Business

Is Yours Run on Business Principles?

Wise buying is the first step to success in any business. So is it the first requirement for a household to be well conducted on an economical basis. Big business concerns have purchasing agents who are experts in knowing what, where and when to buy. They study goods and concerns which have goods to sell. They watch the markets. They read carefully the advertisements of concerns in their particular lines.

The manager of a household must be purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. She should be familiar with stores and merchandise. She should run her business on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read advertisements.

Advertising today is the voice of business. Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise; they reveal improvements and inventions; they give you information about things that are useful and interesting.

Every manager of a household, every person in the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare, should make a practice of reading advertisements.

Notice to Property Owners.

Notice is hereby given that on the thirteenth day of July, 1919, the common council of the city of Seymour, Indiana, adopted a resolution declaring that it was necessary to improve Third street in said city, the full width thereof, from the East property line on Walnut street to the West property line on Ewing street by grading and paving with one of the kinds of modern city pavements and that the common council will meet in the council chamber of said city of Seymour on the seventeenth day of September, 1919 at eight o'clock p. m. on said day for the purpose of hearing objections to the proposed improvements and that all persons will be heard at said time.

Farmers Meet in Marion.

By United Press

Marion, Aug. 20—The Indiana State Farmers' association was to open its first after-the-war meeting here today. Forty-five Indiana departments were represented by a total delegation of more than four hundred farmers.

UNITED STATES IS WORLD'S MOST WEALTHY NATION

Average of Americans is $360. Per Year, According To Estimates.

By United Press

London, Aug. 20—While the brain might reel at the mass of figures unloaded at a meeting of the Royal Statistical Society, some interesting details as to the world's wealth can be extracted from a paper written by Professor J. C. Stamp. Comparing the pre-war wealth and incomes of England, Germany and the United States, Prof. Stamp computes the respective totals at:

Wealth
England	$ 71,500,000,000
Germany	82,750,000,000
United States	210,000,000,000

Income

England	$ 11,250,000,000
Germany	10,750,000,000
United States	36,250,000,000

On a per capita basis also, America comes out easily the richest country in the world. The capital per head of the population, according to Prof. Stamp was, before the war:

Capital Income
England	$1,590
Germany	1,220
United States	2,420

All these figures must be considerably inflated to obtain the current year's capital and income, but the increase would certainly be biggest in the case of the United States, which could boast at least triple its pre-war wealth.

The thrifty habits of the French nation were reflected, said Prof. Stamp, in a capital of $1,515 per head, while Italy and Austria had only $640 and $605 respectively. He computes Japan's capital at $12,000,000,000, or on a per capita basis, $220 capital, and $30 income per head of population. The capital and income of Spain was probably as low as any in Europe, the income per head not exceeding $55.

Onion Crop is Small.

By United Press

Kendallville, Aug. 20—Northeastern Indiana's onion crop probably will be not over sixty per cent. of normal, the bureau of crop estimates has announced. Thrips seriously infected the entire section and the top growth has been retarded by lack of rain and a hot sun, causing a harvest ten days to two weeks early.

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcine say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general rundown condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared." —Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

CHAPTER XIV.

He went to his room, threw off his coat, waistcoat, collar and tie, letting them lie where they chanced to fall, and then, having violently enveloped himself in a black velvet dressing-gown, continued this action by lying down with a vehemence that brought a wheeze of protest from his bed. His repose was only a momentary semblance, however, for it lasted no longer than the time it took him to groan "Rifraff!" between his teeth. Then he sat up, swung his feet to the floor, rose and began to pace up and down the large room.

He had just been consciously rude to his mother for the first time in his life; for, with all his riding down of populace and rifraff, he had never before been either deliberately or impulsively disregardful of her. But now he had done rough thing to her; and he did not repent; the rather he was the more irritated with her. And when he heard her presently go by his door with a light step, singing cheerfully to herself as she went to her room, he perceived that she had mistaken his intention altogether, or, indeed, had failed to perceive that he had any intention at all.

"Oh, my Lord!" George groaned. Fanny spread out her small, soiled handkerchief, and shook it in the air to dry it a little, crying as damply and as wretchedly during this operation as before—a sight which gave George a curious shock to add to his other agitations, it seemed so strange.

"You're so proud," she quavered, "and so hard! I tell you I didn't mean to speak of it to you, and I never, never in the world would have told you about it, nor have made the faintest reference to it, if I hadn't seen that somebody else had told you, or you'd found out for yourself some way. I—"

In despair of her intelligence, and in some doubt of his own, George struck the palms of his hands together. "Somebody else had told me what I'd found out for myself?"

"How people are talking about your mother."

Except for the incidental teariness of her voice, her tone was casual, as though she mentioned a subject previously discussed and understood; for Fanny had no doubt that George had only pretended to be mystified.

"What did you say?" he asked incredulously.

"Of course I understood what you were doing," Fanny went on, drying her handkerchief again. "It puzzled other people when you began to be rude to Eugene, because they couldn't see how you could treat him as you did when you were so interested in Lucy. But I remembered how you came to me, that other time when there was so much talk about Isabel; and I knew you'd give Lucy up in a minute, if it came to a question of your mother's reputation, because you said then that—"

"Look here," George interrupted in a shaking voice. "Look here, I'd like—" He stopped, unable to go on, his agitation was so great. His chest heaved as from hard running, and his complexion, pallid at first, had become mottled; fiery splotches appearing at his temples and cheeks. "What do you mean by telling me—telling me there's talk about—about—" He gulped, and began again: "What do you mean by using such words as 'reputation'? What do you mean, speaking of a 'question' of my—my mother's reputation?"

Fanny looked up at him woefully over the handkerchief which she now applied to her reddened nose. "God knows I am sorry for you, George," she murmured. "I wanted to say so, but it's only old Fanny, so whatever she says—even when it's sympathetic—pick on her for it!" She sobbed. "It's only poor old lonely Fanny!"

"You look here!" George said harshly. "When I spoke to my Uncle George after that rotten thing I heard Aunt Amelia say about my mother, he said if there was any gossip it was about you! He said people might be laughing about the way you ran after Morgan, but that was all."

Fanny lifted her hands, clenched them and struck them upon her knees. "Yes; it's always Fanny!" she sobbed. "Ridiculous old Fanny—always, always!"

You know the La Fendrich is a real Havana the moment you take it out of the box. You can tell by its delightful Havana aroma. Then, when you get one between your teeth and begin to puff away at its smooth, mellow goodness, you feel just like you are in the city of Havana, smoking the made-in-Havana article.

The only difference is, you get lots more in the La Fendrich for your money because it is made in the big Fendrich factory where millions of other cigars are made, thus avoiding a direct overhead cost. You see, the La Fendrich plant—biggest in the world under one roof—keeps its own expert buyers in the very heart of the world-famous rich Cuban tobacco fields, where they select the very finest of the tropic-ripened, mellow leaf, which they ship direct to the big Fendrich plant. There it is aged and mellowed under scientific process, the result of years of cigar-making experience.
